

Student Assistants

The student assistants are a courageous group of students who risk the terrible fate of being called a "brownie." They spend their free periods in assisting not only the P.E. department, but also in doing various odd jobs in the guidance, general, and dean's offices. Others help a lonely vigil at their posts as hall monitors or struggle with the mimeograph machine in the bookstore. Those who work in the clinic and the library perform a direct service for the students as do the "stooges" who sell tickets in the activities room.
